How well do you remember "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood?"

Officially test your knowledge in tonight's "Jeopardy!" category celebrating the 50th anniversary of the groundbreaking children's television show created by Pittsburgh's own Fred Rogers.

The episode airs at 7 p.m. on Channel 11.

"We look forward to testing how well the contestants know their Neighborhood moments," said Paul Siefken, president and CEO of The Fred Rogers Company.

That's no small task, considering the show has nearly 900 episodes.

"Mister Rogers' Neighborhood" continues to air on PBS stations throughout the country, and it is available for streaming on Amazon.

"Mister Rogers" fans can look forward to a host of tributes this year, including a star-studded PBS special on March 6, and a PBS KIDS programming event through the week of February 26. More information is found on the Fred Rogers Company website.
