A second season of Disney Junior's animated dinosaur adventure series for preschoolers, Gigantosaurus, is coming very soon! Young dinos Rocky, Bill, Tiny, and Mazu are back and ready to have more hilarious and heartwarming moments together, this time with some new characters in the mix. Season two picks up where season one left off, and though everything seems good in Cretacia, the dinos quickly realize that all is not well, and that they'll need some help from their friend Giganto to prevent an ecological disaster.

Check out a clip from the new season above, see some first photos from the upcoming episodes ahead, and tune in to the season two premiere of Gigantosaurus with your kiddos on Monday, Jan. 4, at 8:55 a.m. local time!
