

Gadgets: Ultra slim widescreen monitor has excellent image quality, low price

By GREGG ELLMAN

The sound you get out of the Coby CSMP88 Multimedia 3D Soundbar Speaker is one you have to hear to believe considering the $100 price point.

It's built with Sonic Emotion 3D sound technology but the bottom line is it sounds great from the six high-efficiency drivers along with a built-in subwoofer to deliver a 6.1 surround sound with 80W total output power.

Plug and play from most any portable media device, TV or just about anything-outputting sound from the analog RCA connections (cable included).

There is a pair of 3.5-mm line-in ports for additional audio input from other devices, but no digital inputs.

A wireless remote is included for volume and power control.

Now only if an updated version had Bluetooth!
